New energy efficient lighting for Keightley Way Tunnel

The Gibraltar Electricity Authority (GEA) has commissioned a new lighting system for Keightley Way Tunnel.

The new project was undertaken in order to replace the ageing and less efficient lighting system which was constantly being vandalised.

The new installation has cost about £36,000 and the Government is delighted that it is at least 60% more energy efficient, fulfilling its commitment to the environment.

Over the next few weeks, the GEA will also be installing a new energy efficient lighting scheme along the Little Bay promenade.
