Terence Lopez, Air Terminal Director at Gibraltar International Airport commented:

"I would like to thank the entire team at the airport for providing a positive experience to our passengers. They have performed excellently this summer and have coped very well with the extra volume of flights and passengers. We welcome this growth and look forward to a busy winter.

Gilbert Licudi QC MP, Minister for Commercial Aviation and Tourism added:

"This is fantastic news for Gibraltar and reaffirms this government's commitment to developing air services and increasing connectivity to the Rock. This is great for business and tourism. The airport continues to break records and we look forward to closing 2016 with a fantastic result and continued growth.”

Gibraltar Airport currently serves 8 destinations, 6 in the United Kingdom and 2 in Morocco.

This summer season saw a record 50 weekly flights operating to the following destinations:

Birmingham:	4 weekly flights
Bristol:	3 weekly flights
Casablanca via Tangier	2 weekly flights
London Heathrow	13 weekly flights
London Gatwick	17 weekly flights
London Luton	5 weekly flights
Manchester	6 weekly flights

This winter season, which started Sunday 30 October, will also see an increase in services to the Rock, up to 36 services per week on average compared with 29 on offer weekly last winter season. All destinations served through the summer period will continue to be served during winter.
